I felt a little frested at my husband's mode of speaking, but made no further remark on the subject. He is never very enthusiactic nor staggaine; and did not mean, in this listianae, to doubt the illness of the parties for happiness in the married state, as I hely imagined. For myself, I warmly approved my friend's choice, and called her husband a lucky man to seeme for his companion through life a woman so admirably, fitted to make one like him happy. But a visit, make one like him happy. But a visit, which I paid to Cora one day, about six weeks after the honeymoon had expired, weeks after the honeymoon had expired, lessoned my enthashasm on the subject and awake some impleasant doubts. It happened that I called zoon after breakfast. Cora met me in the parlor, looking like a very fright. She were a soiled and rumpfled morning wrapper; her hair was in papiers; and she had or dirty stockings, and a pair of old slippers down at the heels.

"And should you not do the same in order to retain it?"
"Why, Mes. Smith, do you think my husband's affection goes no deeper than my dires? I should be very sorry indeed to think that. He loves me for myself."
"No doubt of that in the world, "Certainly I did."

TUESDAY, February 25, 1868.

Washington Reports.

file Washington correspondent of the Boston Advettises makes the following statements on several topics relative to the Interesting occurrences at Washington:

METHOD OF IMPERCIONERS. MITHER OF APPLICATION.

After the House passes a resolution to impeach the Pre-ident, it will appoint a committee to proceed to the bar of the Senate and declare that in its own name and in the name of all the people it has resolved that the President should be impeached of high crim's and middementors; and that in due time the House will present articles of imprecingular and peske them proof. The impeachment and make them good. The House will then appoint a committee of man against a fram up these articles, and when they are agreed upon the managers will go to the law of the Secute and announ the fire of the House, ask the Senate to the action of the House, ask the Senate to fix a time to try the charges, and cite An-drew Johnson to appear. The Senate is then bound to fix a finer and Inform the House. At the trial the House attends in a body, and five managers conduct the prose-ention on its behalf.

The President's Depender The President's democratic legal friends say that he claims that the clause of the Constitution regarding appointments during sessions of Secate is silent upon the qua tion of removal, and consequently does not forbid him to remove; he therefore, he says, removed Mr. Santon under the authority given bim by the Constitution; he next appointed General Thomas Secretary next appointed General Thomas Secretary of War ad interim, under the act of 1792, authorizing the executive to make temporary appointments; then under his constitutional right he now nominates Hon. Thomas Ewing, sr., as Secretary of War, desiring to have a man in the place with whom he can have pleasant relations. Unfortunately for the President everybody undertand the the desired processing the second of the president everybody and extended the first second of the president of stands that the liwing more was an after-thought, and is really therefore outside of the present proceeding looking toward im-peachment, and this stroke of policy will hardly avail him snything in either branch

The Situation.

From the dispatches received since going to press, yesterday, we give the following account of metters at Washington; The set for which the Executive is to Le fried does not stand a.one, although upon that he will probably be judged. It is the secured of a long succession of outrages not less criminal, though better covered by the pretence of obedience to law. Having escaped these measureless experiments upon the patience and the best interests of the people, he seems to have regarded bimself at last as the Government. One theory is that he and the subservient Adjutant General plotted the coup together, in the hope of dividing the Republicans and uniting the Demperats, doubtless because the former attempts to impeach him had failed through the refusal of the whole body of the Republicaus to second them.

Gen. George H. Thomas' declination of the double brevet taidily awaided him gracefully covers the last series of Presidential blunders. Gen. Thumas has seen and felt too many of the cruckies of the rebels of Tennessee and Kentucky since Andrew Johnson became their Moses, to appreciate a compliment conferred in the hope of making him a tool in the last desperate effort to convert the Government into a dictatorship for the benefit of these same rebels.

There is not however any danger of disturbance. The officers of the samy here will only obey orders transmitted through Gen. Grant, and Gen. Zellin, commandant of the Marine Corps, also sides with Congress and will execute its lawful acts.

The Herald's dispatch says that namerous dispatches have been received from the Grand Army of the Republic endorsing the action of Congress. The general lenor of these dispatches is that the numbers of the Grand Army of the Republic will not see Congress overthrown, and if violence is used in ejecting Mr. Stanton 100,000 men are ready to come to. Washington and put him back. The order is reported as in a great state of excitement and is unanimously resolved to take sides with the policy of Congress and defend it in all its measures if affairs are brought to such an extremity.

A gentleman who accompanied Governor Swann of Maryland from Annapolis to Washington says that Swann told him that he was coming to Washington for the purpose of confering with the President, and was ready, if accessary, to use the whole force of Maryland to head off what he terms the Republican conspiracy to depose Mr.

The Democratic members of both Houses of Congress friendly to Mr. Johnson advise him to not with extreme caution, as the mil-Itary power in the bands of Gen. Grant will be exercised by that officer regardless of the consequences. They say that all their hopes of being able to carry the next Presidential election depend on his retention of power and that if he does anything rashly they cannot do anything for him or lend and attacked another man, but the noise him the slightest countenanc.

An officer of the Union League of America, a colored organization in this district offered its services to-night to an eminent radical Congressman in case of need. He said that in ion hours he would have in the city under arms 4000 men, 2500 of whom had seen service in the war and were veteran troops.

Gen. Grant issued an order Sunday morning calling the attention of the commanders of posts to the recent act of Conpress, that all orders to the army must pass through his hands, that his headquaters are in this city and that orders commuting from any other source must not be obeyed. The President has been tailled at every replied the husband. Still Cora argued, but | point, and there is not the faintest prospect; that he will be able, if he should feel so inclined, to muster a corporal's guard of the regular army to aid him in his apposition to Congress. Should any attempt be made, either by any of the Sceretaries to Interfere with or ignore Mr. Stanton, the Reconstruction Committee will bring articles of imeachment against the offending person.

It is said that Secretary McCulloch will not pay any requisitions from the War Department, unless they are signed by Gen. Thomas. Should be take this course Le will be warned at once of his impeachment and will be put on trial at the same time as the President.

Some absurd rumors have been put in circulation by the Democrats about Chief Justice Chase, that he believes the reconstruction legislation unconstitutional, and that he will not leave the bench of the Supreme Court entil the end of its term in May to preside over a court of immeachment. This is pronounced by those who know the Chief Justice infinately to be an unfounded falsehood, invented by the Copperheads.

Judge Woodward of Penn., has made half of a long and rather prosy legal argument, only heard by those immediately around him, and he has obtained leave to print the remainder.

Judge Wiison of Iowa, the Chairman of the best speech of the normlag. He asserted that if the President did not wish to obey to read the advertisement and then coll and any laws of the land he should resign and permit the elevation of some one to the position who would perform its duties.

At noon no movement had been made in the Court by the President or his friends, Adjt. Gen, Thomas had an interview with the President at the White House this morning. Secretary Welles and Postmaster General Randall were present, General Thomas went from the White House to the War Department, where he was admitted. After going to the Adjutant General's office, he went up to the Secretary's room and again formally demanded possession which Mr. Stanton emphatically refused. There were present at the interview Gen. O. O. Howard and Judge Fisher of the District Supreme Court. Gen. Thomas promenaded the lower hall of the War Department for ten or fifteen minutes, but some of the messengers and clerks indulged rather uncomplimentary remarks and he left the building in dudgeon.

Gen. Grant is at his head quarters to-day attending to routine business and smoking firemen were soon on hand, the Sevens berigars. There are reasons for believing, however, that should the Philadelphia roughs or any one clae make any turbulent demonstration here which the police could not put down the United States troops would soon appear to enforce law and order.

The indications are that the presen trouble will resolve itself family into a degal struggle wherein the most belligerent par ties will be the lawyers, and the final judgment be rendered by the Courts instead o by a sangulaary contest of armed hodi s President Johnson does not contemplate the use of force, unless he be driven to that last remedy by an affempt on the part of Congress to suspend him pending trial. That Congress will pash the President to the last extremity by passing a bill of suspension and attempting its enforcement is extremely improbable.

Thomas Ewing has notified the President that he will accept the appointment of Secrelary of War, but the Senate will undoubtedly reject it.

It is stated that the President is disapcointed at the manner in which Gen. Thomas attempted to carry out his orders, and when told by Thomas that the latter had allowed Stanton to remain, quickly exclaimed "Well, General, I am afraid Stant m will flank you after all." "Not at all," said Thomas, "I will go there in the morning and take possession; there will be no trouble." "But," replied the President, "suppose Stanton locks the doce on you and re-fuses to let you in, what then?" "I will break open the door," rejoined Thomas. "Oh, tut, int: General, that is not the way to do at all," responded the President.

During the rebellion a Frenchman of the name of Cluseret took service with the United States troops, and as he had shortly before quitted the French army, in which he had attained the rank of captain, he was made a general, He has since returned to his native country, and commenced the publication of newspaper articles over the signature of " Ocn. Cluseret." The Government was in high dedgeon and made nothing more than an ex-captain; but to the obsoxious signature. As the military title is highly esteemed in France, the nuthorities are not willing to let the matter rest, and M. Cluseret has been cited to appear before the examining magistrates on a tharge of assuming a title to which he has no right in France-an act panishable by a heavy fine in that country,

TELEGRAMS.

Washington, Feb. 24,1838. The Deed is Done! Andrew goes Into history impeached of high crimes and instrumentors. Whether he is also to carry the base honor of having been convinced hefore the har of the Senate, there need he no speculation now. The future wild certainly know him as the first President against when the grand Inquest of the secondary model found a full of indict. the sovereign people found a bill of indictment. He sent a message to the Strate to-day, in applogy for the crime with which he is charged but it availed bim muting with the house, this door was scaled an hour after it became known that his misidemenous was consumed. It is miside-meaning was consumed in his misidemeanor was consumated; his apologies, ex-planations, promises of good behavior were worth no more to him there than a breath of summer wind.

THE TAKING OF THE VOTE was an impressive scene. Nearly every member answered land enough to be heard by the entire gallery, and on every side I could see persons keeping tally on rerais of paper on the backs of letters. One builted and twenty-six to forty-seren, manusced the Speaker. So Andrew Johnson was an this 24th day of Fobrary, 1868, Impeached of high crimes and misdemeanors.

An analysis of the vote shows that all the republicans present but Stewart of New York, rated for impreselment, and all the denoterals against it. The committee to go to the har of the Senste to morrow and announce that the House in its mans and in mann of all the people of the United Sense, has imposched the President, consists of Missis, Stevens and Bingham; the committee to the committee to the committee of the c tee to draw up the articles and arrange the estiment, is composed of Messrs. Stevens, Boutwell, Bingham, Wilson of Iowa, Lo-gan, Judan and Ward.

THE YOTE ON IMPFACEMENT. At two minutes to five the impeachment resolution was read, and the vote was taken in perfect silence. Every republican pres-ent veted age and every democrat no.— Stewart, who comes from Raymond's old district in New York, and who have no deci-ded political views, voted no. Dixon, of Rhode Island, was absent.

Kerosene Oil and Lamp decided backing down from his position last Friday. His argument does not relieve him from the charge of violating the law in the appointment of Thomas as Secretary aid TWIN IN NO PROPERTY of the proposition of Thomas as Secretary and 30 Ces, and Strong, with age, height and sees and lair, you will receive, by return made, a correct yleimu of your fature bushandors alte, with mage and date of marriage. SUPPORT FOR THE PRESIDENT. Particontrary, Feb. 23. One hundred and seventeen persons in the 4th Ward, yesterday, held a meeting and resolved that Congress was usurping powers; that this is a white man's government; and that they would shoulder muskets to zustain. Andrew Johnson, but broke up in great confusion when a motion was made to match to Washington.
